"Who is the more foolish, the fool or the fool that follows him?" –Alec Guinness

At last it is finally over! Time seemed to move slowly in the beginning, but now that I look back upon it, the time went by in a flash. Thanks Mom for always being there for me. Gram and Grandpa...You are the greatest! Thank you to all of the teachers that have helped me through the years. Mr. Keeney, you are the best teacher that I have ever had, you have always helped me when I needed it. Rick, I can see how tight your pants are, now get away from me! Pat M - never forget to collect your dater. Jay B, Steve F, and Pat D – you guys are great, it has been lots of fun over the years. Keep on drawing Steve, it will get you somewhere someday. Pat face it, you can't beat my bowling score. Jay, how much money did we spend last summer? Will anyone be able to forget Rick's antics? For everyone else out there that I didn't mention, good luck on your journeys after high school, we are all headed out into a much bigger world...

"Give a man a fish, you feed him for a day. Teach a man to fish, you feed him for a lifetime."

These are the days to remember, I'll never forget the times we spent together, Ross, Rick, Doug. Yep, there's been a lot of great memories: the raids on Showcase, the rope swing, the Dukes of Hazzard, cruising, sand dune jumping. It's been so long, who took the cake for the stupidest move? We'll have to review the tapes, huh Ross? Steve, my artistic nemesis, cool guitar. Pat, at least we can leave WB knowing we're better French students than Nicole. Ali, my best "girl_friend," thanks, you mean a lot. Quick shout to all my "cronies" at O'Connors. I get two hundred words to summarize my life up to this point, so I can't leave out the baseball team; honestly guys, where would we be without Jake screaming in our ears? Anyway, I'd like to just take a minute to thank everyone along the way: my teachers, my parents and family, and everyone in between. You mean more than you will ever know, and I am proud to say, on your behalf, I couldn't have done it without you.

Well this is it guys. Senior year and I probably won't see most of you again, but I will remember the times we had together. Paul, Ross, and Rick I am going to miss you guys: sand dune jumping, reservoir swimming, end of year cookout, water balloons (actually just hearing stories). My buddy Mike, MIKE!!, I'll still be in the weight room this summer, and definitely going to the games to watch you play next year. We'll have more cookouts during double sessions next year. Jay, strong side. What's up Ali. Dana, love school, keep highlighting those text books. F.J. and Tim, Rutland forever. Sorry I couldn't come up with anything funny for this write-up, but I guess high school was the same for me as everybody else: fun times with friends not to be forgotten. Oh yeah, I almost forgot, Thank you, Thank you, Thank you, and most of all Thank you. Thanks to my friends and family and blah blah blah. Thanks to everybody I loved high school.

Yep, senior year, it's so cool. I kinda wish it would last forever, but on the other hand I want to go out there into the jungle of a world we live in and experience it for myself. During this year, I usually stop and look around the classroom, and wonder where we'll all be someday. Just always remember to be happy in life, whatever you do. I get such a laugh when I look back at old photos, and I see how much people have changed, and how some people haven't changed a bit. Hey Jay, maybe someday we'll actually be in real bands :) ... so keep on rockin'. Eric: those were all sweet concerts, good times. To "tall Pat": be cool, rock the body, make ya freak.... yeah... something like that. I also have to give credit to Pat because he helped me get into techno, and he's the guy that helped me and (everybody else) with our schoolwork. Paul.... cool car. And Jon, someday, maybe I'll actually pay money to see one of your movies so keep it up.

Congratulations Seniors. It has been fun sharing the past years with you. Many of us have been at West Boylston since kindergarten, with memories and friendships from long ago. I had a great two years at West Boylston High School, and hope you will have as much fun at college as I have had in my year at WPI. Enjoy your college years, they will be some of the best of your life, remember that life after college doesn't come with summer vacation and a spring break. The good times: Scouts with Steve and Jason. Friday nights with Brian and WPI alum. The AP Biology kids, Pat, Paul, Chris, Courtney, Kristin and the Jenns. Thanks to Paul who dared me to grow my beard at the end of sophomore year before I left for the Academy. God was my copilot... but we crashed in the mountains and I had to eat him. Thank God high school is finally over. I thought the day would never come. Maybe I will be remembered as someone who did his own thing and never followed the crowd. Mom and Dad, thanks for everything. Nick and Jess, thanks for keeping me in line. A few cool teachers who put up with me over the years: Mr. White, Miss Myers, Miss Simone. Play Comps, Musicals, Senior Play, I will always remember. Tim we had a blast. BMX, Maine, Buck Nutties, girls, we did it all. Cliff have fun with the Jag, and keep riding the blackmail. Me, Cliff, Tim riding forever. Paul keep thrashing Bangladesh. Ross, Doug, Asiram, Donaldson, 11th grade gym class, Yogi. Hendrickx leave. Sand dune jumping, rope swing, pushing the truck, road cone/barrel mayhem. Are my pants tight? Jacky you are the reason for my late night cramming. Mike, you say it like it is a bad thing? When I started high school, all we needed, was a laugh. Years gone by I say we've kicked some class. How brutally honest it is. First I must thank myself, without me I couldn't be where I am now. More importantly, I want to thank all of the people who have put up with me for the last four years. Faculty, friends, and family, all of you should be given a purple heart for what you have had to put up with. Ross, Paul, Adam, Cleary, Martunas, and Ivers: "Is that a cop? I dunno. Let's balloon him. Okay." Adam let's just watch the Bruce Lee movies. Gallagher I'll manage you when you become a star. Alex, " you workin' this weekend?". Mercurio you are the funniest kid ever. Sean Desai, need I say more? VHS, stats homework, Pool. My musical taste will continue to expand. To much drama over the years to mention. To my parents thank you for everything. Sarah you will support me so do well. Never forget the stupidity and greatness of youth, May we all die fat and old together. O, my brothers, remember sometimes thy little Jon that was. Amen. And all that cal.

HOMECOMING WEEK

Animation and Action / Western Day

Howdy partners! from seniors Ryan Nolan, John Mulryan, and Janet Curran. They're welcoming everyone to a Homecoming round-up.

Sophomores Julienne and Jaqui are ready for action on Action/Western Day.

Ashley and Lisa are the epitome of animation and perfect representatives of the Blues Clues group.

Every action day has to have its own Superman, Andy Hendrickx is ours. Paul Conforti, Sponge Bob Squarepants, visits with the superhero.

Horror / Villain and Comedy Day

An ominous group of underclassmen meet to celebrate Horror/Villan Day in the cafeteria.

Whose leader is this??

The two pretty smiles can't possibly be part of Horror/Villan Day. Vanessa and Kim are guilty only of horrible taste.

Seniors gather to discuss their strategy of the day.

Pieces of the 2001 Homecoming Puzzle

Ashley Kinnear, Jenn Defeudis, L Osterberg, and Jaqui Pagonis st together for their final appearenc a Homecoming pep rally.

The real Academy Awards weren't nearly as spectacular as our own Academy Awards Week has been. This year's Seniors performed like best actors and actresses in each event. The Juniors were best supporting actors and actresses throughout the week. Both freshmen and sophomores showed Academy Award efforts in their desire to surpass the upper classmen. The class of 2002 came away with the Oscar, but have left some promising young contenders for next year.

The sophomores display their strength in the arm wrestling competition. Angela Conforti tries to defeat her brother, Paul. Did she let him win? We will never know...

A happy lion anxiously awaits the competition of the week. We all wondered how much he knew about the outcome?

John Mulryan, Kim Marshall, and Robin Berkey show their true colors at lunch during Class Color day.

The tug-of-war was a furious competition between the seniors and sophomores. The juniors and freshmen lost early on, leaving the two other classes to battle it out.

Who will capture the flag? 2002? 2003? 2004? 2005?

Nicole Attela and Joellen Russo strike a quick pose for the photographer . Smiles that bright mean they're having fun.

Allie LaVigne as Tigger is almost too cute to compete!

CLASS COLOR DAY

Virtually Everyone Is A Star During Academy Awards Week

Didn't Megan Germaine wear that last year??

Kate Ritter, Ashley Gore, and Bridget Bonson, all sophomores, act as if they might actually win dress up for the day.

Dedication

Mrs. Roy we are so thankful to have had such a great teacher, mentor and leader as you. We thank you for dedicating your time and yourself to teaching us to be better people, making us more knowledgable and better suited to face the real world outside of high school. Also, a second thank you is required for making this year's yearbook possible; without you we know it could have never been done. You have made such a difference in our high school years and given us something that will never be forgotten - a great sense of ourselves and a good education. From West Boylston Middle/ High School we wish you the best of luck and happiness in the years to come.

We'll miss you, Mrs. Roy! Congratulations!

This year our yearbook changed hands, but never lost its direction. With the help of many seniors who sold ads, the dedication of Mrs. Roy, and the enthusiasm of the myriad of helpers, we had an excellent finished product. Despite conflicts with classes, busy schedules, and practically no meeting time this year, we not only finished the yearbook but also have a 16 page supplement for the first time in many years. Through page layouts, meetings with Dan Smith, and endless stacks of disks, we finally got it all done. How, I don't know. I can only wish the future yearbook editors and staff members luck and patience. In the end, it's worth all of the headaches.

Ksenia Varlygnina, Editor

We know we left some footprints in the sand...

We know we left some handprints on the wall...

We hope we left an imprint on your heart.

Goodbye and thanks.
